About twenty people paid a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. John North's home on Sunday evening when the present occasion was spent with family circle, etc. Mr. North has been confined to his home with a broken ankle for the past several weeks, and the visit was much appreciated.

Rev. Father Murphy, who had charge of the pastoral work in this district for the R. C. Church until the arrival of Rev. Father Duggan, has now been appointed as incumbent of the parish of Taber. It is worthy to note that Father Van Tighem, uncle of Mr. Van Tighem, who for some years previous to his death resided at Taber, and that he was at one time located in Strathmore. Rev. Father Murphy was popular in this district, and the news of his promotion will bring pleasure to many.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, who conducted a stirring campaign throughout this district at the Federal election, has been appointed Dominion Commissioner for the Province. The Hon. Duncan is undoubtedly a good man for this job, which carries with it an annual salary of $4,000.

Mr. R. A. Brown, superintendent of the Calgary Street Railway, addressing the Calgary Board of Trade last Friday, spoke of the ultimate development of hydro-electric power throughout the Province of Alberta, opening up the great coal plants throughout the towns of the province. Strathmore Town Council was some time ago in communication with Mr. Brown, and the latter has promised to send the Public Utilities Board would not give the town permission to borrow the amount necessary to carry the scheme into execution. Mr. Brown looks forward to a large scheme embracing a considerable portion of the Province being brought into effect in a comparatively short time, and one of the initial schemes is for power to be carried from Kamaska in the Drumheller Valley, which would supply Strathmore and other towns en route.

At the time when Strathmore Town Council was in correspondence to the hydro-electric scheme it was estimated that it would cost $150,000 to construct the line and put in transformers, etc.

An ice carnival is to be held on Strathmore rink on Friday evening of this week, and with favorable weather there is no doubt that there will be a big attendance. Good prizes are being offered.

The weather of the past week has been the longest cold spell experienced this winter and the coal piles have suffered considerable diminution.

Grain is showing a considerable rise in price, and while the most of the grain in this district has been shipped and sold, considerable number are still holding. The fluctuation in the price of grain here harvest presents another argument for the re-instatement of the Wheat Board.

The marriage took place on Friday at Calgary of Mr. P. J. Moran, formerly with Alberta Government Police, and Miss G. Davis, formerly operator at Gleichen. "Daddy" was for several years with the C.P.D. phone system, and his many friends will wish him many years of conjugal bliss.

Miss Madge Martin is at present sick in Calgary with grippe, but is now doing well. Her mother, Mrs. James Martin, went up to Calgary on Saturday.

The dance which was scheduled to be held at Memorial Hall last Friday under the auspices of the T.F.A. has been postponed till Friday of this week owing to the bad weather of the original date. Otherwise the same arrangements hold good.

Grain Speculation Should Be Discussed

Editor, Strathmore Standard.
Though you influence the farmers of this district will learn of a series of addresses to be given by specialists on the question of the marketing and the transportation department.

The series consists of addresses to be given by specialists on the question of the marketing and the transportation department. I believe one of the causes that a big corporation should carry on is to put the conditions on one condition; they must have conviction. These convictions must be more extensive in scope than to cover only the limited field of their scientific inquiry. They must not be limited by limitations of the superintendence of a particular branch of farming. They must be so intensely human as to prevent a man urging the importance of producing abundant crops by irrigation unless he has the courage to pick his utmost endeavor to secure the proper value for those abundant crops to the person who grew them.

Assuming that the world, including salaried officials of corporations, without further argument, has concluded that the most direct road from producer to consumer, eliminating in the language of Mr. Cress, any false slides, is the only road that can be travelled in safety if we are to carry every year. We say that once that fact is known by the farmers it will at once establish a relationship between representative of corporations and farmers so intimate that co-operation between them will be irresistible.

If the corporation can send a man to tell us how to grow crops, they can send a man with strong convictions against the waste trickery and profiteering associated with marketing, to the ultimate dealer who has been fed.

If they are pleased with the success of men who grow crops of wheat, they will not have conviction enough to condemn and help to remedy the present method of not looking enough. Whether due to irrigation or not. My wheat last year averaged thirteen bushels to the acre without making any deduction for average entirely blown out, and at of it in a comparatively short time, and one of the initial schemes is for power to be carried from Kamaska in the Drumheller Valley, which would supply Strathmore and other towns en route.

Representatives of the Irrigation Company knowing the district, would be pleased if they could say that farmers on irrigated land including summer-fallow averaged a well. They should not have convictions strong enough to publicly denounce a marketing system that would do as follows:

Last week I was the owner of some on which I had drawn down to pay my threshing and some loss accounts. The municipalities were pressing for this year's taxes, and under financial stress, in common with nearly everyone, my only hope was to get enough for my wheat to pay taxes. The market began to advance, and as soon as it reached a point to cover, I sold. Since then, at present writing, the market has advanced ten cents at common wheat. If I had not sold that wheat made to society to enable them to put that profit in their pockets. Why should not all men have conviction, aside from their particular occupation to compel them to publicly denounce a practice as inhuman as to play the necessities of producer and consumer against each other for profit.

I am writing this letter in the hope of encouraging a large attendance at the meetings, to hear men speak with conviction far reaching enough to be worthy the best traditions of the human race, beginning with systematic scientific production and ending with stabilized national marketing.

M. EUGENE SLAY

Amendments To The Municipal District Act, which will make it easier for owners of property in towns, villages and rural municipalities to vote the annual elections without the equipment of payment of taxes, will be introduced by the Hon. R. G. Reid, Minister of Municipalities, at the present session of the House, according to an announcement made by Mr. Reid this morning. Amendments are now being prepared to this effect.

If these amendments are approved by the House, they will take effect in time for the elections in rural municipalities on February 25th. In the case of the towns and villages, the elections have already been held, but the amendments will apply to those places for the elections next December.

Amendments are also being introduced to make provisions for the placing on the voters' lists of those owners and others who have been omitted in the preparation of the lists. The voters' lists of the municipalities are made up in two sections. One includes the owners of property, and the other, those who are not by virtue of their relationship to the owners of the property.

The owners of land are electors for all purposes, but those on the "supplementary voters list," who are on by virtue of their relationship, may vote for councillors only, and may not nominate for council. However, those people on the supplementary list were compelled to apply for place on the list during the months of November and December, and if such application was not made, there was no other means of getting on the voters' list. The proposed legislation will make it compulsory for the secretary-treasurer of the municipality to compile the supplementary list and arrange it in alphabetical order.

In the case of the omission of the names of owners of property from the list, provision is to be made whereby such owner, aside from the present necessity to give seven days' notice in writing to the secretary, may also swear on their name on election day by taking oath that they were the owners of the property and so assessed on certain dates. Similar provisions are also being made for omission in the case of those entitled to be on the supplementary list of voters.

Ottawa, Ont.—That the Canadian public is well supplied with banking accommodation is to be seen in the fact that Canada has a branch bank for every 1,800 people. The United States is a country in which banking facilities have been greatly multiplied, but still it is found that there the percentage of banks is much lower being one for every 3,877.

Ottawa, Ont.—A population of about eight and a half million for the Dominion is indicated from the complete returns of six of the nine provinces as compared with 7,504,557 in 1921. Figures from British Columbia, Ontario, Saskatchewan, The Yukon and Northwest Territories have yet to be completed.

The numbers who are attending the skating rink nightly is another argument. If one is needed, for a municipal skating and curling rink, and the preparatory work should be done now so that the rink could be in operation next fall. It is the best form of healthful exercise possible in the winter, and it should not be a burden on the town, for there is no doubt that

Strathmore, Alberta, February 15, 1922

Some time ago a case was brought up in the local court where a man peddling brushes around the town was fined $15 and costs for not having a town license. The case was appealed, and was to have been heard in Calgary Monday, but owing to the salesman being ill and unable to appear was settled out of court, both sides paying their own costs. It appears that the firm for which the traveller was working had a Dominion license, and he was therefore entitled to peddle brushes, but at the same time was at fault in not having a receipt for the license in his possession to be produced when called for.

There seems something wrong when the Dominion gives authority for house to house peddling, for of the hundreds the peddler is the most evasive of the public at large, his commission being as high as fifty per cent. Besides which there is a loss of revenue involved to the parties on whom he calls, even if they do not buy, for the peddler usually manages to get his sell off before he can be shown out. The elimination of superfluous middle men is one of the points of the farmers' platform, and we hope to see legislation passed which will reduce the number of the travelling spell-binders.

It would pay its way after once established.

It is stated on the authority of Mr. McKillop, superintendent of the shelter at Victoria Park, Calgary, that fifty per cent. of the single men there were, on this highly returned men. This is a sad commentary on the promises made to the soldiers during the war, that there are left to an existence on $1.50 per week in a place, which it was stated during a hearing in Calgary last week, was insisted by vermin. The soldiers had the unfortunate to return from active service at the end of the boom period, and they have not been able to make provision out of their earnings since discharge for their upkeep during the present slack times. In the trenches over seas, lice, rats, and other vermin, could not be avoided, but there is no reason why the men who endured them over there should have to do so again in Canada. The present situation forms another proof that re-establishment of the returned man is anything but complete, notwithstanding the press campaign of the late government to that effect.

It is time for the Strathmore Community Club to come to life again. It has not been heard from since the end of last year. There is lots of scope for community work and discussion now.

According to United States magazine writers, the jazz craze is having a most demoralizing effect on many of the young people there. This is one evil that has been kept down locally and attempts made to indige in the practice have been checked by a warning that it would not be tolerated.

The provincial cabinet is at present considering the advisability of establishing an agricultural college which will absorb the present faculty of agriculture at the Alberta University and will have a distinct building on the University grounds. No decision has been reached in the matter as yet, but it is the view of Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, that agricultural education should be established as a distinct system apart from the general educational system of the province, so that there would be a direct connection from the agricultural schools, the demonstration farms, and the proposed system of county agents, to the man on the farm. It is not the intention that the agricultural college should be entirely divorced from the University since the examinations will be set by the University and all lectures aside from those on Agriculture, would be delivered by University professors. Mr. Hoadley has advocated this system to the members of the cabinet and it is now under consideration.

The resolution passed at the Annual convention of the U.F.A. in Calgary this year, effecting provincial government matters, will not be presented by the usual delegation as in past years, but will merely be forwarded to the provincial government for its attention.

A fine example of the spirit of thoughtfulness and sympathy with fellow beings in time of need, which is the characteristic of Western people, is found in the action of the people of the district of Lamont and Ponoka, who recently shipped two carloads of clothing and supplies to families in the drought areas of Southern Alberta. The people of Lamont district shipped a carload of potatoes and flour. Christmas dinners for 50 families and 2,000 pounds of beef, 50 to the bushel district, which was distributed among nearly 200 families. They also donated a shipment of oats which were sold and the proceeds turned over to the Department of Agriculture for purchase of oatmeal for distribution.
